

U3A Photography Group meeting March 2025

Report by Alan Kenwright; Photographs by Robin Taylor, Anne Newton, and Val Reynolds.

In March the photography group visited Kiplin Hall, a Grade I listed building near Scorton in North Yorkshire. The building itself dates from the 17th century, though the grounds it sits in are an estate that predates the house, originally being part of the land belonging to Easby Abbey. Both the house and grounds provided excellent subjects for photography, not least the magnificent walled garden which must be spectacular later in the year.

Our next outing will be to Fairfield Mill in Sedbergh, on Wednesday 2nd April (note the change of day – not Tuesday!).
